To our valued customer,

We hope that all of you are healthy and coping well with the uncertainty that comes with the COVID-19 outbreak. While we attempt to persevere through these unprecedented times, one thing is certain: Mead Clark Lumber is determined to keep you supplied with the necessary lumber, tools and hardware products you need to continue working at your jobsites and homes.

We remain open for business during our normal business hours, as we are classified as an essential business under California's Essential Critical Infrastructure Workers mandate for COVID-19.

Because the situation we find ourselves in is fluid and changing, we are closely monitoring and respecting the recommendations of the local, state and federal governments. While our store and yard remain open, we will continue to take preventative measures to ensure the cleanliness and safety of our operations are in compliance, therefore protecting our employees and customers. We know that doing our part to reduce the spread of COVID-19 gives us the maximum ability to keep supporting our customers and the community we serve and live in.

We offer home and jobsite deliveries as well as will call services.
