

IS YOUR HOME READY FOR WINTER?

Insulation
UPGRADE OR REPLACE YOUR INSULATION
Maximize your home's energy efficiency by upgrading or replacing the insulation in key areas of your home.

Gaps and Cracks
IDENTIFY AND SEAL ANY AIR LEAKS
Fill any gaps and cracks around the exterior of your home by either caulking them or using an expanding foam

Gutters and Downspouts
CLEAN YOUR GUTTERS AND DOWNSPOUTS
Debris and dead foliage build up can lead to an overflow of water which can damage your roof. Excess debris in gutters is also an optimal habitat for critters and rodents.

Windows and Doors
CHECK ALL WINDOWS AND DOORS
Inspect windows and doors, re-caulk and add weather-stripping as necessary. Determine if any windows and doors need replacing before the rainy season. In the event that replacements are needed, contact Mead Clark's Window and Door department to talk to one of our experienced team members, (707) 576-3333.

WEATHERIZE YOUR HOME FOR BIG SAVINGS THIS WINTER

Weatherizing your home is an effective way to save money on your energy bill not only for this winter, but for many winters to follow.

The U.S. Department of Energy recommends homeowners conduct a home energy assessment – regardless of the age of their home. “Do not assume that just because your home is recently constructed—or even new—that there are no opportunities to save energy. Energy-saving technology has evolved rapidly over the past few years, outpacing training commonly available to many builders, including some of the most reputable.” the agency states.

While it isn't as thorough as a professional consultation and walkthrough, homeowners can conduct a DIY Energy Home Assessment to help pinpoint the areas that may need addressing.

Weatherizing your home isn't just an opportunity to reduce your energy bill, it can also help improve the longevity of HVAC units. Reducing unwanted air flow from in and out of your home lessens the strain on your heating and air conditioner, which prolongs their lifespan – saving you from costly repairs and replacements down the road.

When choosing insulation for your weatherization project, choose Knauf's Performance+ Ecobatts and EcoRolls.

Knauf Insulation's Performance+ EcoBatts and EcoRolls were recently awarded the Asthma and Allergy Friendly Certification by the Allergy Standards Limited (ASL) and the Asthma and Allergy Foundation of America (AAFA). Their formula is formaldehyde and dye free, which is what gives their insulation it's unique brownish appearance, while also maintaining excellent thermal and acoustical performance.

Knauf Insulation's Performance+ Eco line is also certified as GreenGuard Gold which is one of the industry's most rigorous standards for indoor air quality.

They hold a Class A Fire Rating, which means it has a flame spread index of 25 or less and a smoke developed index of 50 or less.*

*This rating applies to unfaced batts, rolls and blowing wool.
